

MISSION STATEMENT

Hank De Graan, Founder of Aztec Washer Company

Aztec Washer Company started in 1967 in Southern California, with only a few local distributors and several orders.

The ensuing 35 years saw the market for bonded washers enjoy dynamic growth and saw Aztec grow to a prominent position in this marketplace, with its international distributor network now numbering in the thousands.

The ensuing 50 years saw the market for bonded washers enjoy dynamic growth and saw Aztec grow to a prominent position in this marketplace, with its international distributor network now numbering in the thousands.

The close working relationship established with our distributor network ensures that the right parts, in the right quantities, are always available for customer orders, with JIT delivery schedules available.

With an international reputation as a source of high-quality, dependable trouble-free sealing and cushioning washers, Aztec looks forward to continuing success in the future.
